Demonstrating the Economic Value of Cochise County Community College District

DECEMBER 2014

Cochise County Community College District (Cochise) creates a significant positive impact on the business community and generates a return on investment to its major stakeholder groups—students, society, and taxpayers. Using a two-pronged approach that involves an economic impact analysis and an investment analysis, the study calculates the benefits to each of these groups. Results of the analysis reflect Fiscal Year (FY) 2013-14.

IMPACT ON BUSINESS COMMUNITY

During the analysis year, Cochise and its students added $162.5 MILLION in income to the Cochise Service Area economy, approximately equal to 3.1% of the Gross Regional Product. The economic impacts of Cochise break down as follows:

Operations spending impact

- Cochise employed 682 full-time and part-time employees in FY 2013-14. Payroll amounted to $28.3 MILLION, much of which was spent in the Cochise Service Area to purchase groceries, clothing, and other household goods and services. The college spent another $15.7 MILLION to support its day-to-day operations.
- The net impact of district payroll and expenses in the Cochise Service Area during the analysis year was approximately $29.2 MILLION in added income.

Impact of student spending

- Around 47% of students attending Cochise originated from outside the region. Some of these students relocated to the Cochise Service Area and spent money on groceries, transportation, rent, and so on at regional businesses.
- The expenditures of students who relocated to the region during the analysis year added approximately $2.3 MILLION in income to the economy.

Alumni impact

- Over the years, students have studied at Cochise and entered or re-entered the workforce with newly-acquired skills. Today, thousands of these former students are employed in the Cochise Service Area.
- The accumulated contribution of former students currently employed in the state workforce amounted to $131.0 MILLION in added income during the analysis year.

JOB EQUIVALENTS BASED ON INCOME

Job equivalents are a measure of the average-wage jobs that a given amount of income can potentially support. They are calculated by dividing income by the average income per worker in the state. Based on the added income created by Cochise, the job equivalents are as follows:

Operations spending impact = 653 job equivalents

Impact of student spending = 52 job equivalents

Alumni impact = 2,932 job equivalents

Overall, the added income created by Cochise and its students supported 3,637 job equivalents.

RETURN ON INVESTMENT TO STUDENTS, SOCIETY, AND TAXPAYERS

Student perspective

- Cochise's 2013-14 students paid a total of $13.5 MILLION to cover the cost of tuition, fees, books, and supplies. They also forwent $128.8 MILLION in money that they would have earned had they been working instead of learning.
- In return for the monies invested in the college, students will receive a present value of $556.1 MILLION in increased earnings over their working lives. This translates to a return of $3.90 in higher future income for every $1 that students invest in their education. The average annual return for students is 16.6%.

Social perspective

- Society as a whole in Arizona will receive a present value of $753.3 MILLION in added state income over the course of the students' working lives. Society will also benefit from $21.9 MILLION in present value social savings related to reduced crime, lower unemployment, and increased health and well-being across the state.
- For every dollar that society spent on Cochise educations during the analysis year, society will receive a cumulative value of $4.30 in benefits, for as long as the 2012-13 student population at Cochise remains active in the state workforce.

Taxpayer perspective

- In FY 2013-14, state and local taxpayers in Arizona paid $29.7 MILLION to support the operations of Cochise. The net present value of the added tax revenue stemming from the students' higher lifetime incomes and the increased output of businesses amounts to $55.5 MILLION in benefits to taxpayers. Savings to the public sector add another $7.7 MILLION in benefits due to a reduced demand for government-funded services in Arizona.
- Dividing benefits to taxpayers by the associated costs yields a 2.1 benefit-cost ratio, i.e., every $1 in costs returns $2.10 in benefits. The average annual return on investment for taxpayers is 5.8%.
